RAIDS LEAVE CITY OF COLOGNE IN FLAMES

25 BOMBERS MISSING IN GIANT THRUST

Berlin Dispatches Admit Stiffer Anti-Aircraft Defenses Fail to Slow Up Aerial Offensive

ITALIAN PORT BLASTED

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

RAF block-buster raiders "in great strength" left the Rhine city of Cologne in flames before dawn today and also attacked Hamburg in northwest Germany, marking the eighth assault on the Nazi home front in 10 days.

Twenty-five RAF bombers were listed as missing in the synchronized thrusts.

One-fourth of Cologne's population was reported to have fled the city after a 1,000-plane RAF armada made the biggest attack in history there a year ago.

Berlin dispatches to Stockholm, Sweden, said last night's raid on Cologne blasted German hopes that stiffer anti-aircraft defenses would slow up the Allied aerial offensive and that there would be a change in the bomb war.

After a 48-hour lull, the RAF came back in force to explore the illusion.

Axis broadcasts, now heralding July 3 as the date for an Allied land assault upon Europe, continued to sound invasion alarms—notably in the Mediterranean theater—and the Rome radio declared that a state of emergency had been proclaimed in Iraq, next door to Turkey.

Without Allied confirmation, the German-controlled Paris radio said two battleships and six destroyers had sailed from the British base at Gibraltar into the Mediterranean for "fleet maneuvers."

From North African bases, 100 American Flying Fortresses dropped hundreds of tons of bombs on the Italian port of Leghorn, 160 miles north of Rome, damaging a cruiser and four supply ships and creating havoc among other military targets. All returned home without loss.

Leghorn is believed to be a base of the shore-bound Italian fleet. Other U. S. warplanes returned to the assault on Sardinia, raiding a series of enemy airdromes.

MURDERER HANGS SELF WITH BELT IN CELL

Philadelphia, June 29—(AP)—Thomas Palumbo, 40-year-old war worker who was to go on trial for the murder of his estranged wife, hanged himself with his belt in a prison cell—unaware that the opening of the trial had been postponed indefinitely.

Palumbo's death was reported by Deputy Coroner Charles Leone as a suicide a few hours after assistant District Attorney Vincent McDevitt was granted a postponement to gather further evidence on the origin of a 10-cent paring knife with which Palumbo's wife was killed.

The accused man previously tried to kill himself, police reported, shortly after Mrs. Palumbo, mother of a 10-month-old boy, was slashed to death in the rectory of the Church of the Annunciation, where she had gone in the hope of a reconciliation with her husband.

Kiska Target For Smashing Air Attacks

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Six more smashing aerial attacks were made against Japanese installations on Kiska Island in the Aleutians Sunday, the navy reported today, and yesterday army planes followed up with a raid against that island and nearby little Kiska.

In the South Pacific, meanwhile a navy communiqué reported, American planes bombed "a small Japanese naval disposition" in the central Solomons but did not observe results. The action appeared to be of little consequence on the basis of a naval spokesman's interpretation. He said that while he did not know the makeup of the enemy force it might have been only a small group such as a destroyer and cargo ship or a squadron of torpedo boats.

Sunday's raids on Kiska raised the 22nd number of separate air actions carried out over that enemy North Pacific outpost in a four-day period.

13-Year-Old Murderer Given Term in Prison

Newburyport, Mass., June 29—(AP)—Edward F. Dow, 13, youngest person ever tried for murder in Massachusetts, was sentenced to 14 to 20 years in state prison today by Judge John V. Spaulding for the hammer slaying of Lydia S. Cook, 72-year-old spinster, last April.

The ruddy-cheeked boy had contended he struck the woman—known as the "egg lady" because she sold eggs in her neighborhood—only after she had hit him with a poker. Upon being convicted last week of the lesser crime of manslaughter he said he had learned his lesson and would be "a good boy."

Wallace And Jones Having Controversy

Vice President Scores Commerce Secretary As "Obstructionist"

HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Washington, June 29—(AP)—In a clash between major administration figures, Vice President Wallace today accused Secretary of Commerce Jones of "obstructionist tactics" and of harassing the Board of Economic Warfare (BEW) in its "single-minded effort to help shorten this war by securing adequate stocks of strategic materials."

In a statement prepared for the Senate Appropriations Committee, Wallace, chairman of BEW, also stated that Jones, who heads the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which supplies funds for BEW buying of strategic materials, had created a "false impression" in testimony before the Congressional Economy Committee, headed by Senator Byrd (D-Va.).

"It is time to prevent harmful misrepresentations of this nature," Wallace said, adding: "Although the president, on April 13, 1942, transferred full control over the programming of imported strategic materials from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the Board of Economic Warfare, which operates under broad directives received from the War Production Board (WPB), Mr. Jones has never fully accepted that authority."

In his statement, Wallace said (Turn to Page Seven)

TONS OF WHALE STEAK DELIVERED IN 'FRISCO

San Francisco, June 29—(AP)—Butchers soon may be cutting whale steak instead of beefsteak, whalers report.

Tons of whale steak have been brought here and may soon be on the market—depending upon what health authorities and the Office of Price Administration say about it.

Don't ask your butcher for a whale tenderloin, though—it is about 30 feet long.

Chambersburg, June 29—(AP)—A perspiring burglar made an unsuccessful attempt to open a safe in a breeze. Officials of an automobile garage found a fan placed conveniently on a chair near the battered but intact safe. The burglar—a thoughtful chap—was considerate enough to remove the electric floor plug before he admitted defeat and left.

BROWNS WHILE FISHING

Canonsburg, June 29—(AP)—Charles G. Schade, 72, a councilman here for 30 years prior to his retirement two years ago, drowned yesterday while fishing in the Potomac river at his summer camp at Millson's Mill, W. Va., near Romney. The body was found entangled in a fishing line in five feet of water alongside his overturned boat.

Pot-Shooting at Key Men In Federal Agencies Denounced

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Key men in federal agencies are protesting privately that congress is defeating its own purpose in the matter of persuading practical business men to work for the government in wartime.

That was the report today of D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well-informed District of Columbia news source who spent several days interviewing the personnel of luckless bureaus whose funds have been under fire by the house.

"Their gripe," said D. C., the mythical observer who represents authentic but unquotable sources, "is that congress continually calls for more business men in this or that agency and fewer professors and theorists."

DRASTIC CUT MADE IN TIRE ALLOWANCES

Number of Low-Mileage Passenger Car Owners Eligible For Used and Recaps is Reduced

MAY LAST NINETY DAYS

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers today called for "strict adherence" during the next few months to tire conservation regulations and the Office of Price Administration (OPA) put force to his words by sharply reducing the number of low-mileage passenger car owners eligible for used and recapped tires.

Jeffers advised OPA that only 500,000 used and recapped tires will be available for rationing in July, a reduction of 300,000 from June.

Beginning July 1, and probably for a period of 90 days while supplies of used tires are being put into serviceable condition, the eligibility of drivers with mileage ratings of 240 miles or less a month will be determined by these standards:

1.—In the eastern gasoline shortage area, where an "A" book is good for 90 miles, drivers who hold only an "A" book cannot get recaps.

2.—Outside the shortage area, where the "A" book provides 240 miles a month, the applicant must show he used his car for essential purposes.

Present regulations make all low-mileage drivers eligible for used or recapped tires. Regulations for drivers with monthly mileage ratings exceeding 240 miles were not changed.

B and C gasoline coupons will be used for the shortage area, where the "A" book provides 240 miles a month, the applicant must show he used his car for essential purposes.

At the same time, Price Administrator Prentiss Brown disclosed that reductions in the values of A, B and C gasoline coupons will be unchanged for the present.

Brown said last night he hoped enough gasoline could be brought into the northeastern shortage area to maintain coupons on their present basis. If that can't be done, however, he said he was sure the motorists "will be willing to make whatever new sacrifice this emergency war condition requires."

OPA officials had for a time considered eliminating A ratings in the eastern shortage area.

War Against Enemy U-Boats Is Succeeding

Ottawa, June 29—(AP)—Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, said today at least 14 enemy submarines had been sunk in the last two weeks and predicted that the Allied assault on Europe would start very soon.

MacDonald told a press conference that the Allies "obviously are approaching another great crisis of the war."

He said there might be "comparatively small" assaults on Germany and German occupied territory, which should not be regarded immediately as the opening of a second front.

The commissioner said the Allied anti-submarine efforts had been so successful in recent months that the tables had been turned completely on Axis U-boats in the North Atlantic. He said this condition was a necessary prelude to Allied assault on Europe.

Insurgent Drive Against Resumption Centers in Pennsylvania

LEADERS ENCOURAGED

Pittsburgh, June 29—(AP)—Slowly, but district officials of the United Mine Workers insisted surely, the more than 150,000 striking miners of the nation were returning to work today to join the 400,000 who already had ended their walkout in protest against failure to get a new wage contract and more money.

The insurgent drive against work resumption centered in Pennsylvania, where 56,000 of 83,000 anthracite workers in the east were idle and approximately 50,000 of 117,000 soft coal miners were out in the west.

In central Pennsylvania, District 2 of the union, where approximately 17,500 of 45,000 miners worked yesterday, there was no definite trend reported toward ending the walkout. A typical example was that of the Revloc Local, 1,000 strong, which voted last week to go back yesterday. Only 64 men reported Monday when pickets appeared.

Philadelphia, June 29—(AP)—When Warden Herbert Smith asked the inmates of the state prison to donate skin to a critically burned eight-year-old girl, thirty volunteered.

One of them, a "lifer" whose name was not revealed, has been selected for the grafting operation Friday which may save the life of the little Evelyn Henderson, Dr. Alma Mae Morani said.

Evelyn has undergone three previous grafting operations since she was burned several months ago.

New Directors Are Welcomed At Annual Hospital Meeting

Review of Activities Shows Institution Had a Busy Year

2,915 PATIENTS TREATED

At the annual meeting of Warren General Hospital, held today, three new directors were welcomed to the board. Mrs. D. E. Conway, Mrs. Lester A. Blair and A. C. Flick, Jr., together with four re-elected members, now join the board in service to the hospital.

The president's report was submitted, giving a review of the year's activities and pointing out the efficient and devoted service of Miss Elizabeth Lauterbach as director of the nursing staff.

It also referred to the Nurse Aide program of the Red Cross which has been of invaluable benefit to the hospital, and has offered a saving relief to the burden of the nursing staff. The Red Cross should be advised of the deep sense of appreciation the Hospital has for the volunteer work of these Aides.

Community good will has been expressed by many acts of generosity, and receipt is gratefully acknowledged of donations and equipment from H. A. Cray, Clinton Wilder, Jr., Mrs. Richard G. Dawson, Dr. Gail K. Ridsperger, E. D. Wetmore, Miss Anna Rockwell, Hammond Iron Works, New Process Company, Commonwealth Laundry, Loyal Order of Moose, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion Auxiliary and the Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

The X-ray department is continuing its full-time service with Miss Fredericksen in charge as technician and Dr. William King of Jamestown serving for therapy. A full time radiologist is expected by September 1st.

The Hospital Service Association contract was considered for modification, since the benefits received by the hospital under this contract have consistently been less than cost and have meant a loss to the hospital which does not seem warranted in these times.

The Department of Welfare made an excellent report after its recent inspection, showing the hospital facilities to be clean, adequate and efficient and well maintained.

The director reported that during the last year, 2,915 patients had been treated in the hospital, (Turn to Page Seven)

OPA Ruling On Gasoline Is Criticized

Washington, June 29—(AP)—A Pennsylvania congressman has complained to Price Administrator Prentiss Brown that although supplemental gasoline is allowed for political candidates, it is denied members of the armed forces home on leave.

Rep. Weiss (D-Pa.) declared in a letter, made public today, that a recent Office of Price Administration ruling will result in an "enraged x x citizenry."

A "negligible" amount of gasoline would be required to meet the demands of servicemen, Weiss said, adding:

"It is difficult for me as a representative of the Pittsburgh industrial district to explain to war workers and parents of servicemen why we are denied gasoline when just last week western Pennsylvania refineries sent 89,760 gallons of auto gasoline into Ohio. It doesn't make sense. It isn't fair, and it is highly discriminatory."

Legislator-Judge Takes Over As Third War-Time Food Boss In Less Than Seven Months

Change is Made After Chester C. Davis Offers His Resignation With Explanation That He Did Not Agree With Policies

HAS NO COMMENT ON LETTER FROM PRESIDENT

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Judge Marvin Jones took over today as the third wartime food administrator in less than seven months as the Roosevelt administration let Chester C. Davis go and thus evidenced new determination to put stabilization of prices over all other considerations in the nation's food program.

Jones, an affable Texan with a long agricultural background, including legislative leadership in putting AAA crop control and other farm-aid legislation on the statute books, moved into the job with a record as a staunch supporter of President Roosevelt's policies.

His appointment to replace Davis, who himself was drafted in March to settle differences which had developed among administration officials, was taken to mean that future food programs would be cut to patterns designed, above all else, to provide food at present or lower prices.

This change in food bosses came after Davis had offered his resignation at some near future date with the explanation that he did not agree with the policy of putting consumer prices above all other considerations, particularly when it involved the use of subsidies and when consumers have, as he said, excess spending power.

Davis also said that while he was responsible for meeting food needs, other persons were exercising authority over broad policies and issuing orders affecting his responsibility. "There were a large number of participants in the formation of those policies, you know," he said, but he declined to name them.

He likewise declined, at a press conference following the White House announcement of his resignation, to comment on Mr. Roosevelt's letter in which the president, after defending the subsidy program, said "it would be unfair to you to insist that you remain in your position when you feel that, all things considered, you cannot wholeheartedly support a program to hold down the cost of living."

Davis, who indicated a readiness to resume his duties as president of the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis, said:

"I had hoped to have an opportunity to discuss the whole problem with the president. But that opportunity did not develop. It probably is just as well."

It was a reluctance on the part of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to operate under the (Turn to Page Seven)

Harrisburg, June 29—(AP)—Representatives of Pennsylvania farm organizations, predicting "a great shortage of food for next winter and subsequent months is now inevitable," called today for immediate elimination of price ceilings and abandonment of subsidies to insure full food production in 1944.

The recommendations were adopted at a joint meeting of the Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations to consider the existing food and feed situation affecting agriculture.

Governor Martin, however, viewed the state food situation as being "in good shape," but said some 40,000 state employees could work on farms if needed.

Supervision Of Mines To Be Continued

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes left the impression today he might operate the nation's coal mines for the government until the owners and the United Mine Workers sign a contract.

This hint was contained in a series of developments pertaining to the coal controversy yesterday in the capital.

The secretary, as fuel coordinator, appointed Carl Elbridge Newton, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, as federal director of mines.

On top of that, Ickes was reported to have begun setting up what looked like a long-range organization to actively supervise the war-vital coal diggings.

"I don't know how long we will have to operate the mines," Ickes told a congressional committee. "I'd like to return them to the owners before night if I could, but I see no immediate prospect."

The majority of registrants have been of high school age, and many are proving themselves valuable farm workers. To date, Warren County farmers have requested the need for 317 workers. At the present there is a large demand for men to help with haying. Mr. Tritt urges that anyone that has extra time, or that are willing to spend their vacations in helping win the war, by contributing to food production, get in touch with Cecil Winans. The headquarters for all farm mobilization work will be in Cecil Winans' office at 220 Liberty street, Warren, Phone 3090. Further announcements as to how you can help will be given in the next few days.

JAPS BEING PUSHED BACK IN PACIFIC

Enemy Land and Sea Forces Slammed With Mounting Fury By U. S. Bombers

MANY SHIPS ARE SUNK

By HAMILTON W. FARON

Washington, June 29—(AP)—Japanese land and sea forces are being slammed with a mounting fury that may well mark the opening phases of a new campaign to drive the enemy farther back in the Pacific.

This became apparent today in the wake of the navy's two latest reports, listing 13 U. S. bomber raids throughout the Pacific and the destruction or damaging of 11 Japanese surface craft by American submarines.

From Kiska to the Solomons heavy and medium bombers sent their bombs crashing onto Japanese air, sea and supply bases.

Their raids came at almost the same time submarine commanders reported sinking six Japanese supply craft, damaging three others and sending a destroyer and mine layer to the bottom during battle cruises in the "Pacific and Far East." These sinkings brought the totals for Pacific submarine action to 269 Japanese vessels—150 sunk, 29 probably sunk and 50 damaged.

Kiska, last Japanese foothold in the north Pacific Aleutian islands, shuddered under the heaviest raids in weeks.

Fighter planes screamed alongside the bombers on seven attacks, strafing ground personnel while the bombers played up the camp (Turn to Page Seven)

Treason Case To Be Retried

Chicago, June 29—(AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals reversed today the conviction of six Chicagoans on charges of treason and remanded their cases to the district court for a second trial.

Defendants were Hans Haupt, Otto Wergin and Walter Froehling, who had been sentenced to death in the electric chair, and their wives, Mrs. Erna Haupt, Mrs. Kate Wergin and Mrs. Lucille Froehling, who had each been sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

They were convicted last November 14, accused of harboring and aiding Herbert Haupt, son of the Haupt family, one of the eight Nazi saboteurs brought to the United States in German submarines, last spring.

Grade 3 Tires Unavailable to 'A' Holders

Motorists who have been counting on getting new tires from their local ration boards will have to revise their plans unless they possess mileage ration of 90 miles a month or more according to an announcement released for publication today by the Ration Board.

Effective July 1, eligibility for Grade III tires is to be determined by the applicant's possession of a gasoline ration of more than 90 miles but less than 240 miles a month.

Previous to this announcement, anyone could obtain a purchase certificate for a Grade III tire, even if he had only a basic A ration, by simply going through the routine of applying to the board. But after July 1, all that will be available to the holders of A cards is a recap job.

OPO, in its announcement, said that stocks of Grade III tires are inadequate to meet the demands of certificate holders, so it is necessary to restrict eligibility to those persons whose activities are most essential. The restriction is called temporary, and will probably last until September 30.

Local boards are cautioned as to the strict need for living up to this change. Any applicant who does not meet the new requirements must be denied tires, the OPA said. In no case, it added, should the board grant a person an additional gasoline allowance in order that he may alter his eligibility status for tires.

The 90-mile requirement applies only to the gasoline shortage areas. Requirements for Grade I tires are unchanged.

Gas School Being Planned For Warren

Lt. Victor Vermilyea, senior gas officer for the Warren County Defense Council and one of the instructors for the regional chemical warfare meeting held last week in Erie, reports that plans are under way for a similar school and demonstration to be held in Warren.

If present plans are carried out, the state chemical warfare consultant promises to supply actual combat gases, detector kits and other equipment to be used in the school. The program will be very similar to that carried out in Erie, where students participated in field identification of actual gases and went through gas reconnaissance and decontamination exercises.

O. M. Borden, of Sheffield, present for the three-day school, has been named gas reconnaissance agent for the Sheffield area and will assist Officer Vermilyea in training personnel there.

Others attending were Robert Dunham, assistant gas officer for the county; Guilford Jones, reconnaissance agent for Warren; Lester Criswell, Donald Curtis, and Anthony Rock, squad leaders; Howard Lauffenburger, decontaminator, and Arthur Cross.

Inductees Will Be Given Swim Lessons Before Service

John Allen, Guinevere Knapp and Harold H. Bush returned Sunday from the Red Cross national aquatic school held annually at Chautauque, N. Y., where they completed the 10-day course in water safety instruction.

Bush, director of first aid and water safety for the local Red Cross chapter, states that heavy emphasis was placed on funtional swimming which is now being taught to pre-inductees through the country by Red Cross instructors.

He said the latest information available shows that 90% of the men inducted are unable to swim and that this deficiency in our fighting men is resulting in heavy loss of life in water-borne invasions, torpedoing and any troop movements involving water crossings.

Mr. Bush reports that special training was given all life saving instructors under conditions simulating jumping from shipboard, transporting injured through water with floats improvised from inflated clothing, how to swim through burning oil slick, methods of self-rescue fully clothed or "shirt tail" life saving, as it is called.

Coming home with this information, Director Bush reports that arrangements are to be made for teaching funtional swimming to all who expect to be inducted and desire to improve their knowledge of water work under the above conditions.

There are now five Warren instructors who are qualified to teach basic swimming courses, junior and senior life saving and funtional swimming.

The funtional swimming course will be open not only to pre-inductees but to any men and women 17 years or older who are in sound physical condition. For the present however, the training will be limited to civilians prior to induction.

Further information on this type of training may be obtained from any of the above mentioned individuals or at the Red Cross office, 404 Market street.

FOOD CZAR RESIGNS

The resignation of Chester C. Davis as wartime food administrator, announced in Washington during the night, came as a little surprise to his intimate friends, according to dispatches. They had emphasized from the outset that he would not continue in the job unless he received the authority which he regarded as necessary to carry it out properly.

Controversies over food policies have marked administration war programs since the beginning. At the bottom of many of them has been the question of farm and retail prices. When the first price control law was being debated in congress, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard urged that the official responsible for production, which is his office, should have control of prices. He argued that price was a delicate mechanism which could be used to encourage or discourage production.

President Roosevelt and congress took a counter view, holding that control of all prices should be centered in one agency, the Office of Price Administration.

It is possible the development that influenced Davis most strongly to step aside was the inauguration, without his knowledge or approval, of the price roll-back and subsidy program on meats, butter and coffee—a program which has encountered determined opposition by farm state members in congress.

WATCHING POSTS ESSENTIAL

One of the most important services provided the airlines and the military air forces today is the aircraft spotting system that is net-worked through the nation. Many lives have been saved and hundreds of planes have been recovered through the alertness of the watchers.

Most sections of the country are well organized in this respect, and some of our neighboring counties have first rate systems. Warren county in the rural sections is holding its own, but Warren borough is lagging far behind.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, whom everybody recognizes as knowing something about flying and what it means to be saved from a wrecked plane, praises the worth of the airplane spotters and claims it is the most important branch of the defense system.

It is true that all civilian defense units would be useless without the watching posts. If there were no way of knowing planes were coming, the rest of the units would be helpless. Yet Warren, with a complete system of defense groups of all other kinds, has no air spotting organization.

You can participate in this vital work by calling Warren 35 and registering your name, or by filling out the blank printed elsewhere in this paper. The Exchange Club of Warren is organizing the Warren unit, and is providing gasoline for transportation to the post.

If the desired 400 volunteers are obtained, you will be asked to serve only one four-hour shift a month.

NEWSPAPERS HAVE A DEFENDER

Publishers of the country discovered a defender in Representative Grant, of Indiana, Monday when that statesman arose and told the house that newspapers "are being choked to death by the flood of government handouts, while on the other hand continued cuts in the supply of newsprint strike out at the jugular vein of our free press."

"Last Friday," Grant recalled, "the War Production Board announced that recommendations have been made to require newspapers to reduce their use of newsprint by another five per cent the first of July."

Saying the government's actions are not consistent with this recommendation, Grant continued:

"There isn't a newspaper publisher in the land who would hesitate at taking his pro-rata share of any necessary cut, and even more, if he felt that the government itself was setting a good example.

"But such is not the case," he charged. "Three thousand two hundred government publicity agencies still flood the country with handouts on every conceivable subject under the sun, that end up in newspaper waste baskets. Most of them serve no useful purpose whatever. They only add to the sum total of the country's available supply of waste paper."

And to this assertion every newspaper worker whose duty it is to judge those 3,200 handouts and finally dispose of them, will add a vociferous amen!

The community is indebted to the Warren County Tuberculosis Society and the Lions Club for making possible X-ray chest examinations of thousands of citizens, at a time when such preventative measures are more important than at any time in history.

A Peek Into the Future

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Eddy Gilmore is back.

Three years ago, Washington knew Eddy as 212 pounds of joviality who turned out for The Associated Press the kind of baseball writing that made a worthwhile story on even the sorry Washington Senators of those days and the kind of features that made a story on the Smithsonian Institution sound like a hayride to Mars.

Since then Eddy has had months of the London air blitzkrieg and nearly two years of covering Russia and her efforts to hurl back the Nazi hordes. He has covered the U.S.S.R. from Archangel to the Caspian Sea and from the long western front to the Bering Straits.

When Gilmore flew to London, his traveling companion was Wendell Wilkie. When he flew across the Straits and Alaska on the way back, it was Joseph Davies, returning from his second "Mission to Moscow." Some call it luck, but whatever it is, Eddy's kind of newspaper man who has a knack of being in the right spot at the right time. He's as full of unwritten anecdotes about Russia and the Russians as his belt is of waistline.

THERE was, for example, the story about Brig. Gen. Pat Hurley. The genial General had met Josef Stalin and captivated him so completely that Stalin designated him the first foreigner to be taken to the Russian front lines.

On the Don steppes, outside Stalingrad, General Vatutin had a portion of his army drawn up for General Hurley to review. The General was told that the men had just marched 17 miles through hell-fire and that they were returning immediately to battle.

Through the interpreter, he told Vatutin that he would like to send them off with "a good old Oklahoma Indian war - whoop." Vatutin looked puzzled, but gave his consent.

"The General" says Eddy, "threw back his head and let out an unearthly yell that rolled across the steppes like a tornado. The Russian lines wavered. Even General Vatutin jumped."

"Some of the men told me later that long after they have forgotten the bloodcurdling screams of diving stukas, they'll be hearing General Hurley's lusty war-whoop."

PERHAPS Eddy's favorite story is about his trip to Iran. He had no more than arrived than a member of Tass, Russian news agency, invited him to dinner. After that, the Russian newsmen started a round of entertainment for Gilmore that went on for days.

Eddy could think of no good reason why Tass should be entertaining him, royally or otherwise. He hinted and probed, but to no avail.

Finally he asked his host point-blank just what was the big idea. After some hesitation, the fellow explained.

"Our enemies have spread the stories here that we are starving. So I take you around, introduce you to everybody and say you have been in Russia for nearly two years. And they look at you and see how fat you are and they know that story that we are starving is a big lie. You are what you call in your country a good advertisement. I hope you don't mind." Eddy didn't.

COLUMBUS, O. — Notes on one Thomas E. Dewey from the biggest Conference of Governors in all the 35 years these pow-wows of the state exerts have been held.

Gov. Dewey of New York may not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1944, as he insists, and anybody who tries to draft him may get "a sock in the eye from Albany," as his intimates here declared, but he was certainly top man on the Governors' Conference.

From the moment of his arrival all eyes were on him. He was so swamped with requests for conferences and press interviews that his private secretary, Paul Lockwood, had to take them in relays and the Governor forewent a lot of social engagements to keep pace with the demands on his time.

THIS is the first time since he has become Governor of New York that Dewey has made a public appearance outside of his state. To those of us who knew him in his racket-busting days as district attorney, and later during his ill-fated drive for the Republican nomination at the Philadelphia convention two years ago, here was a different Dewey.

In those days he was stiff with formality. He played unapproachable and although no one questioned his accomplishments as a prosecutor, his press conferences frankly were a pain in the neck. Imagine the difference then, the other day, when he greeted a handful of the newsmen in his shirt-sleeves, chain-smoked cigarettes from a silver holder and "let his hair down" in a friendly confidence. When he talked off the record, he had something to say that gave us a better understanding of the man and a clearer conception of his views. He didn't pontificate, either.

DEWEY has mellowed. In spite of the amazing record he made before that age, maybe he has come to realize that life really does begin at 40.

This isn't a purely personal viewpoint. Although Dewey was assigned the task of speaking on the food supply—a subject which normally should have been tossed to one of the Governors of the purely agricultural states—his address was greeted with more "amens" from Republicans and more attention from the Democrats than any given here, except that partially off-the-record address by Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall.

Although conference officials did a wonderful job of soft-peddaling politics, to keep it entirely out of the picture in a session of Governors in a pre-election year was impossible. The political attention, of course, centered on the Republican potential for the 1944 Presidential ticket. I made a thorough poll as possible of both Republicans and Democrats as to how they thought these potentials had emerged from the conference. The list shaped up this way: Governor Dewey, first; Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, and host Gov. John W. Bricker, tied for second place; with Gov. Earl Warren of California, fourth, but still in the money.

ONE-MAN USO SHOW

SERVICEMEN and hostesses at this San Francisco USO Club would not have been surprised at a speech, but they were hardly prepared to be regaled by an impromptu piano recital when USO President Chester I. Barnard arrived at the club on an inspection trip. The visiting official, whose lobby is music, entertained the group with improvisations for a quarter of an hour.

In his business life Mr. Barnard is president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, now on leave of absence to run the USO. This San Francisco audience, like several others he entertained in the same way on his trip, added to his other titles that of "One-man USO Show."

WRIGHTSVILLE

Mrs. Julia Pokosh was a Saturday visitor at Corry on business. Robert Durlin, who is working near Sugar Grove, was a weekend visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Richards, of Youngsville.

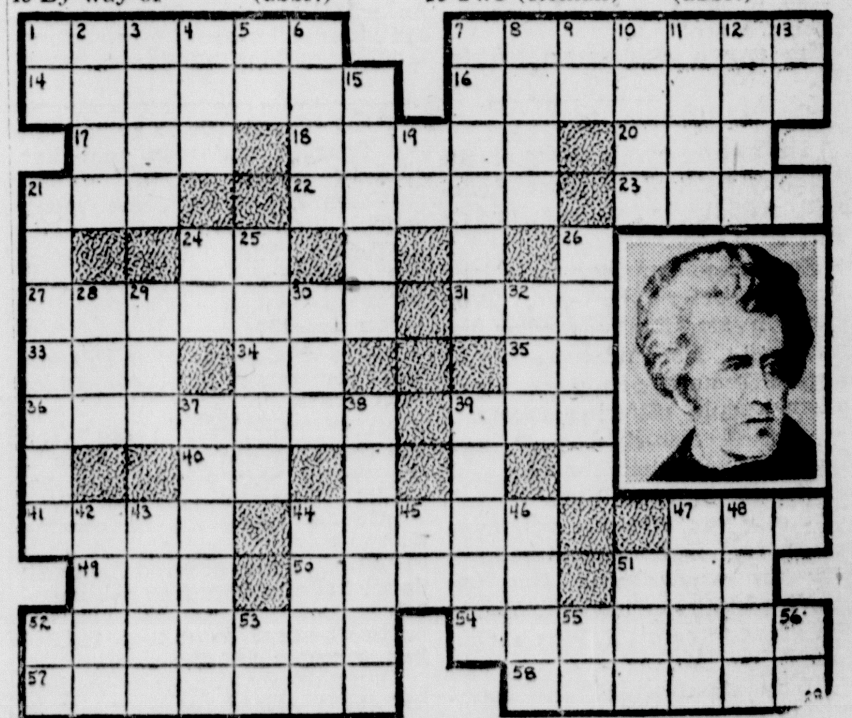

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gravelin and son, Robert, of Ripley, N. Y., were Sunday visitors at the homes of Wm. Yates and Eli Boardman.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY

Meadeville, June 29-(P)—A verdict of murder and suicide by Coroner Luther J. King closed the case of the deaths of Jeanne Phelps, 23, daughter of a prominent Crawford county contractor, and her brother-in-law, Andrew Kinch, 37, railroad shop worker.

The two died yesterday in Kinch's car on the Conneaut Lake-Conneautville road 10 miles west of Meadeville, of bullet wounds which Deputy Coroner Samuel Gottlieb said were inflicted by Kinch.

Gottlieb quoted Herman Kimple, a railroad worker, as saying he saw Kinch's car swerve from the road, the right door open as if Miss Phelps were trying to jump out; heard her scream and saw Kinch fire the two fatal shots.

Kinch and Miss Phelps' sister were married about 10 years ago. He had driven the girl and a fellow worker to Meadeville shortly after 7 a. m., then left with her as if to take her as usual to the Department of Public Assistance office, where she worked.

STRUTHERS NINE TAKES CORY GAME

The Struthers-Wells baseball nine aggregate, fast becoming top contender for the county crown on the strength of their recent victory over Meadville, journeyed to Cory Sunday and split up a double bill with one of the best teams ever seen in that town, winning 6-4 and losing 9 to 4.

Bob Schuster scattered 9 hits in the opener to hold the batters in check along the route, keeping the base paths clear most of the time.

He was supported by 12 hits from his mat to push in the six runs with Jim Akeley collecting three out of 5 for the biggest day and Gerald Vesling garnering 2 out of 5.

Cassett of Erie, pitched the first tilt and was knocked out of the box, bringing in Popovich, who checked the Struthers swatters to four bingles from there in.

Popovich took the mound in the second game also and tightened up on the local E's, only allowing 6 hits, while Cory bats pined out 8 to take one of them.

This proves the contention that the Struthers team can take on and beat some of the leading teams in the section, raising the hopes of many Warren fans to see another between the Forge and local defense team within another month.

Major League Clubs Ready To Clash In First of Two "War Relief" Days On Wednesday

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's going to be a great relief for the major league clubs to start another round of intersectional play tomorrow.

This is because tomorrow is the first of two "war relief" days designated by Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, with all clubs turning over their entire receipts to the National War Fund.

Last year each club played a pair of games for the Army and Navy Relief Societies and some of them were given haphazard promotion by the clubs concerned.

Hockett Gives Brown Battle For Leadership

New York, June 29.—(P)—If Vernon (Junior) Stephens of the St. Louis Browns wants to be inducted into the army still wearing the mantle of leadership among American League hitters he will have to ward off Oris Hockett of the Cleveland Indians.

After holding first place undisputed for many weeks, Stephens finally has had to share it with a .342 batting average. In the last week the mark of the St. Louis slugger dropped from .358 and Hockett increased his average slightly from .340.

In the National League, Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren, who, like Stephens, expects to be called for induction soon, continued serenely at the front of the senior circuit's hitters with a .351 average. Frank McCormick of Cincinnati replaced Billy Herman of Brooklyn in the runnerup slot during the week with a .336 mark.

Whirlaway Is Being Retired

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Chicago, June 29.—(P)—Whirlaway is going back home to those picturesque Kentucky pastures to live in peaceful retirement until death.

The racing career of the biggest money winner in the history of the sport is ended. Within two weeks he will be shipped to the white-fenced Calumet farm owned by Warren Wright of Chicago to rest completely until next May when he will be used for breeding. In another two years his sons and daughters may be carrying on his great tradition of victory. The Calumet farm is located in the rolling blue grass country near Lexington, Ky.

The decision to retire the famed five-year-old chestnut colt with the long flowing tail that almost touches the ground was reached in a sympathetic understanding between Owner Wright and his trainer, Ben Jones. They decided not to continue racing the Blenheim-bomber for fear his career might terminate in a disgraceful breakdown.

Whirlaway never fully recovered from an injury to his left foreleg suffered in New Orleans last winter.

Davis Drops a Close Decision To Al Tribuani

Philadelphia, June 29.—(P)—A hard-punching welterweight named Al Tribuani remained today as a stumbling block that Al—Davis can't seem to climb over on the steep path to fistic glory.

It looked for awhile as though Davis could last night when the Wilmington, Del., youth buckled in the third, started to rise and then sank back for the count of nine, but Tribuani rallied to take a 2-1 decision, that nearly 7,000 fans applauded.

Dropping back to the canvas before a blow had been struck would have cost him the fight in most states but under Pennsylvania rules he lost only the round, which already was Davis' by a wide margin.

Tribuani, who weighed 148, rallied in the fourth, dodged the hammering left of 144-pound Davis and scored repeatedly on the jaw of the one-time bad boy, just as he did to take a decision last month.

The crowd paid $14,484 for seats in the outdoor arena.

NEW REGULATIONS ON CHANGING POSITIONS

Philadelphia, June 29—(A)—Changing jobs? Better make sure the one you're going to is as essential as the one you're leaving.

The War Manpower Commission (WMC) ruled yesterday that an employee in Pennsylvania, New Jersey or Delaware may not change from an essential to a less essential occupation without a release from his employer or from the WMC.

Previously such a change was prohibited if the new job paid more.

W. T. Englehorn, acting regional WMC director, said the rule was adopted on the unanimous recommendation of the regional labor-management committee.

Changing to less essential work now is permitted only when the change would aid the war effort or for "compelling personal reasons."

GAVIN AGAIN HAMMERS OPA ON CRUDE PRICES

Washington, June 29—(A)—A price increase of from 50 to 75 cents a barrel on crude oil would step up production in the Pennsylvania area 15,000 barrels daily, resulting in 315,000 additional gallons of gasoline a day for eastern motorists, Representative Gavin (R-Pa.) told the house.

There is a potential volume of 900,000,000 barrels of oil in the area, Gavin stated, and argued that the price rise "would mean less than one-half cent a gallon on refined products."

Gavin, urging the house to "wake up this OPA outfit or kick them out," blamed Deputy OPA Administrator Sumner Pike for the "hold-line" order on the price of crude oil.

"Oil today is at 60 per cent parity," he said, "and the impractical visionaries in the OPA have determined to hold the line."

BAN ON FIREWORKS WILL BE ENFORCED
Harrisburg, June 29—(A)—Pennsylvania's five-year-old law banning fireworks "absolutely has served its purpose and the people abide by it," State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm declared today.

Commenting on a survey showing Philadelphia has complied 100 per cent with a search by a special squad of police failing to disclose a single firecracker, Wilhelm said no special instructions will be given his force to enforce the ban that "if a violation is found it will be taken care of promptly."

New Directors Are Welcomed at Annual Hospital Meeting

and 1,157 patients treated at the dispensary. In addition, there have been 572 births at maternity. 124 patients died. Nearly 1,000 operations were performed. There have been almost 2,000 x-ray examinations and over 500 therapy treatments.

The average patient cost per diem has risen only $1.5 since last year, in the face of largely increasing costs of food and care. The realization that efficient management will permit continuing service at no greater cost to the public than in the past should be re-assuring to the community.

25 Bombers Missing In Giant Thrust

said RAF Wellingtons from North Africa attacked San Giovanni, near the "instep" of the Italian boot, a few hours before the Fortresses hit Leghorn.

London informants declared the RAF's raid on Cologne may have delivered as heavy a bombard as the first 1,000-bomber assault there on May 30, 1942, when more than 600 acres were left in charred ruins in the heart of the city.

At the same time, RAF intruder patrols shot up railway targets in Nazi-occupied France, and fighter planes slashed at Axis shipping in the English channel, damaging a supply vessel and two escorting E-boats.

Other events at a glance:
Russia—Ominous lull still prevails on long battle line. Soviet scouts kill 200 Germans on central (Moscow) front.

South Pacific—Allied fighters break up 16-plane Japanese raid on Darwin, Australia, probably destroying six enemy aircraft. Gen. MacArthur's bombers pound four Japanese bases in islands above Australia.

Burma—RAF bombers raid big Japanese stronghold at Akyab, also strafe enemy camps and river traffic.

Strikers Are Slowly Going Back to Work

today as an additional 3,500 men left their jobs, but a back-to-work move appeared to be gaining momentum in the other two United Mine Worker districts in the hard coal field.

Even as UMW leaders went into session here to consider means of getting more mines back into production, approximately 2,000 men returned to work in District 1 and 200 went back to their jobs at 200 mines in District 9.

Although approximately 50,000 of the industry's 83,000 miners still were idle in the field as a whole, union leaders were encouraged by the showing in District 1, where half of the hard coal workers are concentrated.

Information About "Pay-as-go-Tax"

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional income tax?
A. No. The withholding tax is an installment or pay-as-you-go method of paying your regular annual income tax.

Q. Does this new tax mean people will not have to pay out money for income tax on next March 15, 1944?

A. Yes, in case the amount of tax withheld from wage payment equals or exceeds the amount of income tax liability reported on the annual return.

Q. Does this mean that I won't have to make out an income tax report next March?

A. No. You will be required to file a return on the usual form.

Q. Are there any kinds of workers who are exempt from withholding?

A. Yes, for certain specified classes which include members of the armed forces, agricultural labor, domestic servants, and ministers of the gospel.

Q. How about people with big wages? Are they going to get by with only a 20 percent tax?

A. No. They also have to make quarterly payments of tax in addition to the amounts withheld.

Q. How about salaries, bonuses and commissions? Is withholding required?

A. Yes, since "wages" means all remuneration for services by an employee.

Q. How about people with income from stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc.? Who withholds from them?

A. There is no withholding on income from bonds, mortgages, etc., but those receiving such income must make a special return and pay the tax quarterly on such income.

Q. I am paying all I can over and above living expenses now in purchase of War Bonds. How can I keep up these payments and pay the withholding tax?

A. I'm sure that you have been setting aside a part of your pay to meet quarterly installments of your income tax. The withholding tax is merely a "pay-as-you-go," or installment-method of paying your income tax, instead of in a lump sum. It should make it easier for you to buy additional War Bonds.
